Luxury, design and stunning details define this executive "Watermark at Bearspaw" home. A stylish take on Tudor combines with alpine-inspired stone and exposed trusses to create a beautifully unique exterior. Inside, high ceilings and large windows allow natural light to flow, while dark trim and new luxury vinyl plank floors add dramatic elegance. In the living area, a statement gas fireplace draws the eye, while floor-to-ceiling windows frame easterly skies. A decadent gourmet kitchen is gorgeous in espresso cabinets with pristine white quartz countertops and subway tile backsplashes. The upscale aesthetic pairs well with elite Subzero appliances, including a nine-burner gas range. A massive island offers plentiful eating space, lit by pendant chandeliers, and a sunny dining area steps out to the deck, ideal for summer gatherings. Hanging barn doors open to the formal dining room, and on the other side of the walk-through pantry, a fully equipped bar serves this room. Practical aspects include a home office, which has a coffered ceiling and custom bookcases, and a powder room offers high-end finishes as well. Even the entry from the oversized five-car garage features custom built-ins. Upstairs, vaulted ceilings hold eye-catching elements with exposed beams and another striking light fixture. The master is a serene retreat, where an expansive bedroom includes a sitting area and an extensive walk-in closet is outfitted with an amazing organization system. The ensuite is a luxe personal spa with dual quartz-topped vanities and a makeup counter. A soaker tub will wash your stress away, while a huge tiled shower invites you to enjoy both shower heads as you prepare for your day, and your feet will love the heated floor. Three more bedrooms each have a walk-in closet and ensuite! A laundry room completes this level. Downstairs, the finished basement is a family fun zone. The rec room has space for a home theatre and a games table would be right at home here too. A flex room with heated floors makes a great activity area or home gym. The fifth bedroom has a walk-in closet and there is another well-appointed bathroom. Outside, a deck extends across the back of the home, and the landscaped yard has a sprinkler system that keeps it lush. There is even a dog run for furry family members and a dog wash. This home features air conditioning, keeping you cool during the warm summer months. In the garage, epoxy, heated floors are a quality choice, while the overhead storage and drive-through tandem spots make accessing your outdoor items easy. Front yard maintenance is included in the HOA. This area is one of the most popular luxury communities, set close to amenities but out of the hustle and bustle. Access to shopping, plenty of recreation opportunities, parks and green spaces. Proximity to major routes makes your commute a breeze, and this location near the west edge of Calgary allows you easy access to the Rocky Mountains.
